

Eng grammar

Ch 27

Synthesis of sentences 2

Pair work

1- He does well, only he is nervous at the start.

2- He is foolish and is also obstinate.

3- You may go to the theatre and Rama also may.

4- The monsoon having failed and the tanks having become almost empty, no grain could be sown and therefore a famine was feared and the ryots looked anxiously for the next monsoon, which, proving unusually abundant, averted the danger.

5- A husbandman had sown some corn in his field only recently and as cranes came to eat the corn, he fixed a net in his field to catch them.

6- The rain having fallen steadily for several days, the river overflowed its banks, so the terrified villagers abandoned their home so and fled to the higher ground, but soon the floods retired and the villagers were able to return.